

Paddy's Plea

Paddy Igoe is a great lad and a cracking little footballer. He is 12 years old, lives in Coventry and has been diagnosed with Aplastic Anaemia. Paddy needs to get his life back on track and desperately needs a bone marrow transplant. Due to his rare tissue type as many people as possible need to be tested for a match to be found. Check out the dates and venues on the poster and if they are not convenient, go to www.dkms.org.uk to obtain a swab kit.
